

Looking for Affordable Functional Electrical Stimulation Options for Your Clients?

Combine the Saebo AvivaStim with the SaeboGlove for Maximum Benefit

About the Saebo AvivaStim

Saebo's AvivaStim is a two channel advanced neuromuscular electrical stimulation system. This device allows you to conveniently trigger the stimulation to occur at any moment during the functional task so the muscles are contracting in a timely and coordinated fashion.

About the SaeboGlove

This cutting edge device helps clients suffering from neurological and orthopedic injuries incorporate their hand functionally in therapy and at home. The lightweight, low-profile functional design is just one of the many innovative features that are offered with the SaeboGlove.

The proprietary tension system extends the fingers and thumb following grasping so clients can incorporate their affected limb functionally. This new found freedom leads to improved motor recovery and functional independence.

For more information, please contact a Saebo representative by calling 888-284-5433 or email info@saebo.com